This Genealogy of The Feyton Family

By definition, Genealogy is the account of human family pedigrees of ancestors or relatives, and is largely statistical; listing names of people, by order of chronological line of descent, giving their source of origin from forebears, and extent of propagation in descendants, stating date of birth, death, and marriage and to whom, with their proper dates. And we like to include along with the names of people, citation of their educational attainments, Colleges and Universities attended, degrees received, Kudos and other honors: achievements attained in life-work: finally, giving last P.O. address. Moreover, we display pictures of prominent people, applicable places such as ancestral and outstanding homes, and relevant things such as wills, revealing letters, peculiar College diplomas, even of informatory tombstones.

Recording of genealogy may be by continuous running written context, or by systematic orderly arrangement in proper graphic schedules. We have transcribed all data that we found, as well as that furnished by others, in the former written flowing language manner, to the latter form, in our personal unique arrangement, by systematic, orderly, proper, graphic, schedules. We use Roman numerals, I, II, III), etc., to denote generations of people, and we use Arabic numerals, 1, 2, 3, etc., to indicate actual number of anything.

The book herewith is a presentation of the pedigrees of two predominating Peyton family branches that are undoubtedly related, but just what the connection is, has not been satisfactorily established. One of the Peyton family branches indicated, has for its immediate English forebear, certain Henry Peyton, of "Lincoln's Inn," Amiger, England. That Henry Peyton was the father of 13 children, and 4 or 5 of them made journeys to the Colony of Virginia in America; 3 or 4 of them established settlements, but only 2 of them established permanent settlements, as far as we know.

The 2 Peyton immigrants, sons of Henry Peyton of "Lincoln's Inn," were the fourth child, 4 (I) Valentine Peyton, whose lineage we have presented in full, pages 19-22, inclusive; the data for that Peyton Family being supplied by Mr R. B. McConnell, address at 205 Q & C Building, New Orleans 12, La.; and the seventh child, 7 (I) Henry Peyton, whose lineage we have presented almost completely, pages 23-50, inclusive; and the data for that Peyton family being supplied by Mr Bernard P. Chamberlain, prominent attorney of Charlottesville, Va. Apropos, Mr Chamberlain is a descendant of a grandson of that 7 (I) Henry Peyton, of "Aquia," Westmoreland Co., Va., by 2 (III) John Peyton, of "Stony Hill," Stafford Co., Va.; and Mr Chamberlain and the descendants of that John Peyton of "Stony Hill," have formed "The John Peyton Memorial Association," which meets annually at Aquia Church, Stafford Co., Va., in celebration and recreation, with picnic dinner served on the ground.

Besides the charts we present, pages 8, 16, 52, there are 2 conspicuous ones outstanding, which were prepared by professional Genealogists, (1) CALIFORNIA CHART, so-called, huge, 4-ft. wide by 36-ft. long, written in Latin, and cited by Mr Chamberlain before, page 9, and which he has had translated into English as a copy for himself: that CHART covers the Peyton Lineage from the beginning of its English ancestry, down through the American Virginia immigrants. (2) STANTON CHART, so-called, prepared for Mrs Forrest Q. Stanton, nee Elizabeth Peyton, address at 341 California Boulevard, Pasadena 2, California: it begins with William-The-Conqueror in England, and brings the Peyton Lineage to the Colony of Virginia in America, by immigrants.

The other predominating Peyton Family branch indicated, is that of Henry Peyton, first of "Park Hill," Albemarle Co., Va., and later of "Glendale," Augusta Co., Va.; whose lineage we have presented fully, pages 50-86, inclusive. There has been much confusion about arriving at the beginning (I) generation in America for this Peyton Family branch, because of the absence of positive conclusive evidence of just who was its immediate English forebear.

As far back in line of descent that this Henry Peyton, of "Park Hill," and "Glendale," and chief member of this Peyton Family branch, himself knew and remembered, is quoted by Hayden, page 562, as stating: "My grandfather, George Peyton, was one of 5 brothers, who had two uncles who came from England, who married and left issue." We found a Bible record of the grandfather George Peyton, reproduced on page 54, that lists him as father of a son George Peyton, and in turn lists the son George as the father of 9 children, naming them, among whom our Henry Peyton, of "Park Hill," and "Glendale," is shown as the second child. In passing, let us state that we have never attempted to compile the pedigree of any other of the 9 children who are mentioned, and have only compiled and written the lineage of the second child, this particular Henry of "Park Hill," and "Glendale." Neither have we attempted to follow up the line of the other 4 brothers of grandfather George, other than to list them by name we got.

The STANTON CHART attempts to go farther back than the two George Peytons. It shows by name all 5 brothers of whom "Grandfather" George is included. Of course they had the same father, who naturally would be the GREAT-GRANDFATHER of our Henry Peyton of "Park Hill," and "Glendale." This chart shows certain JOHN Peyton as the father of the 5 Peyton brothers, and shows that that John Peyton's father was named Robert Peyton; and for proof refers to the will of ROBERT Peyton. Moreover, this chart indicates that the immediate English forebear of its ROBERT Peyton, was none other than Henry Peyton of "Lincoln's Inn," Amiger, England. Among the 13 children of the latter, there certainly was one named ROBERT. in fact the oldest child. However, there never has been any mention of that ROBERT Peyton immigrating to America.

It appears to us that there is a determination to allot some John Peyton to be the father of George Peyton, grandfather of Henry Peyton of "PARK HILL," and "Glendale." And there is a vast difference among genealogical investigators, as to just what JOHN to allot to be the father of the elder "Grandfather" George Peyton.

Hayden cites, page 461, another English immigrant Peyton, ROBERT Peyton, grandson of Sir Edward Peyton of "Iselham," Cambridgeshire, England. Hayden further states, same citation, that that ROBERT Peyton was the father of 7 children, naming them, among whom one is named JOHN Peyton. This ROBERT Peyton settled in Gloucester Co., Va., and called his place "Iselham," after his English ancestral home.

We can be only certain, from evidence, of the actual ancestors of Henry Peyton, of "PARK HILL," and "GLENDALE," as far back as his grandfather, the elder GEORGE Peyton; whom therefore we dub as American generation (III); dub his son George the younger as American generation (IV); and dub the latter's son, Henry Peyton, of "PARK HILL," and "Glendale," as American generation 2 (V): and dubbing the American generations following as (VI), (VII), (VIII), etc.

Nevertheless, in order to account, supposititiously, for what we might dub as American generations (I) and (II), we have prepared another CHART, page 52, by which we do attribute the ancestry of Henry Peyton, of "PARK HILL," and "GLENDALE," to the English immigrant ROBERT Peyton, of "ISELHAM," Gloucester Co., Va., through his son JOHN Peyton.

As Lucinda Farish was the wife of 2 (V) Henry Peyton, and mother of their 10 children, and consequent numerous descendants, we have prepared and present pages 87-105, inclusive, an Appendix, giving the pedigree of the Farish Family.

THE MEDIA RESEARCH BUREAU

The name of PEYTON or PAYTON is derived from the residence of its first bearers at a place so called in England, possibly either the Township of Peyton or Payton, in Norfolk and Herefordshire, of the chapelry of Peyton, in Devonshire, but the exact location is not certain. In ancient English and early American records the spellings Payton and Peyton were used interchangeably, and both forms are frequently found in modern times.

Early seated in the English Counties of Suffolk, Warwick, Hereford, Devon, Kent, Essex, Cambridge, Huntingdon, Buckingham, and Lancaster, the families so named were, for the most part, of the nobility and landed gentry of the British Isles.

According to most historians, the family is descended from William Mallet, a Norman baron, who was sheriff of Yorkshire in the year 1068, having accompanied William the Conqueror into England a few years earlier. This Norman also received the lands of Sibton and Peyton, in the County of Suffolk. From him was descended Walter, Lord of Sibton, who was the father in the early twelfth century of Reginald de Peyton, the father of John and William de Peyton, of whom the first resided in the County of Suffolk in the latter part of the twelfth century. This John was the father of Sir John, Robert, and Peter, of whom the first married Maude Beurs and was the father by her of another Sir John, whose will is dated 1318. He was the father of Sir Robert Peyton, who died in 1351. By his first wife, the widow Christiana Appleton, he had no issue; though his second wife, Joan de Marney, of County Essex, gave him two sons, Sir John and William. Of these, Sir John married Margaret, daughter of Sir John Gernon, of Essex and Cambridgeshire, and was the father by her of a son named John, who left issue by his wife Joan, daughter of Sir Hammon Sutton, of Margery, John, Thomas, and Robert.

John Peyton, eldest son of John and Joan (née Sutton), married Grace Langley, and had issue by her of John, Thomas, and Anne, of whom the first died early and was succeeded by his brother, Thomas. This Thomas first married Margaret, daughter and heiress of Sir John Bernard, of "ISLEHAM," County Cambridge, and was the father by her of Thomas, Margaret, and Grace. By his second wife, Mrs Margaret Frances (Carney), widow of Thomas Carney, and daughter and heiress of Sir John Frances, of Gifford, County Suffolk, he had issue of Christopher, Rose, and Francis, of whom the latter, Francis Peyton, married Elizabeth, daughter of Reginald Brooke, and was the father by her of Christopher and Edmund; of these, the first married Jane Mildmay, by whom he had four sons, Thomas, Christopher, Francis, Henry, and others. Sir Christopher, the second of these, was knighted by James the First of England, and became Auditor General for Ireland. He first married a daughter of William Palmer, of Warwickshire, and was the father by her of Elizabeth, Cicely, and Thomasia. By his second wife, Alice Newman, he had further issue, including a daughter Anne.

Henry Peyton, who was living at East Barnet, England, before 1633, was the father of Sir Robert Peyton or Payton, who was knighted in 1670. Sir Robert left at least one son, Craven Peyton, but the records of this line are not complete. This family is said to have been a branch of the Cambridgeshire line.

Another branch of the Cambridge family of the name was represented in the early seventeenth century by the Reverend Thomas Peyton, of County Mayo, Ireland, who was the father of John Peyton, of County Roscommon. This John married Catherine Reynolds, by whom he was the father of three sons, Humphrey, George, Oliver.

Thomas Peyton, eldest of the children by his father's first wife, Margaret Bernard, married Jane Calthorpe, by whom he was the father of sons Thomas (died without issue), Robert, and Edward, as well as four daughters, Grace, Elizabeth, Jane, and Anna. Of the sons, Sir Robert was sheriff of Cambridge and Huntingdon about the beginning of the sixteenth century. This Sir Robert married Elizabeth, daughter of Sir Robert Clere, of County Norfolk, and had issue by her of William (died young), Sir Robert, Margaret, Elizabeth, Edward, and Sir John. Of these six, Sir Robert married Frances, daughter and heiress of Francis Hassyldon, of Essex and Cambridge, and left issue by her of Robert, William, Richard, Edward, Christopher, John, Anna, Catherine, and Anna. Of these nine, Robert, Lord of Isleham, County Cambridge, was knighted by James the First in 1608. He married Lady Elizabeth Rich, daughter of Richard, Baron Rich; and their children were : Robert (died young, 1577), Sir John, Richard, Maria, Frances, and Winniford. Of these six, Sir John Peyton, who succeeded his father in the Cambridgeshire estates, married Alice, daughter of Sir Edward Osborne, and was the father by her of reputed 12 children, 7 sons and 5 daughters, namely : Sir Edward, John, Robert, Roger, William, Thomas, and Nicholas; Alice, Anna, Elizabeth, Maria, and another whose name is not available.

Another of the six children, mentioned above, of Sir Robert Peyton and Elizabeth Clere (Peyton), that is, Sir John Peyton, married Dorothy Tyndall; and through them are descended the Peytons of Knowlton and Doddington lines. (Henry Peyton, of "Lincoln's Inn, to be mentioned later, may have come from this line)

Of the reputed 11 children of Sir John Peyton and Alice Osborne (Peyton), the eldest son, Sir Edward Peyton, became his heir. And he married 3 times : (A) Martha Livesay, April 24, 1604, by whom he had 5 children, namely, Sir John, Rev. Edward, M.A., Thomas, Robert, and Amy; (B) Mrs Jane Calthorpe (Thymelthorpe), June 6, 1614, by whom he had 4 children, named James, Thomas, William, and Jane; (C) Dorothy Minshawe, Dec. 14, 1638, by whom he had 3 children, namely, Edward, Joseph, and Samuel. His eldest son, Sir John Peyton, became his heir, and the baronetsy in this direct line ended with his son, Sir John Peyton, Governor of Rose Castle, Kerry, Ireland, who died without issue, March 23, 1721. Sir Edward's son by his second wife, Thomas Peyton, of Rougham, Norfolk, Lord of the Manor of Wicken, born at Isleham in 1618, and died Oct. 12, 1683, married twice : (A) Elizabeth, daughter and heiress of Sir William Yelverton, Bart., of Rougham County, Norfolk; and (B) - "the widow Hacon." By his first wife he was the father of 4 children, namely, William, Robert, Charles, and Yelverton; of whom the second, Major Robert Peyton, born in 1640, emigrated to Gloucester County, Virginia, about 1688, and named his place "Iselham," where he died in 1694. The name of the wife of Major Robert Peyton, denominated "The Immigrant Robert," is not known; but his children were : Elizabeth, Thomas, and Robert : some historians list 4 more : John; Benjamin, William, and Ambrose, but their records are not handy. Thomas, the elder son of Robert the Immigrant, married Frances Tabb. in 1700, and had issue by her of : John, Frances, Martha, and Mary. Robert, next older son of Robert the Immigrant, died in North Carolina, leaving issue by his wife of at least 3 sons, Benjamin, Robert, and William.

Concerning some other sons of Sir Edward Peyton, by his three marriages. Rev. Edward Peyton, M.A., another son by his first marriage, was the father by his wife (name not available) of Edward, Robert, and Henry. Another son by his third wife, Joseph Peyton, was the father by his wife, Mary Vincent, of a son named Vincent, who was born in 1685.

Regarding the brothers of Sir Edward Peyton. It is stated in Hayden's Virginia Genealogies, that four of the brothers, John, Roger, Thomas, and Nicholas, all died without issue; and William, of Worlington, Suffolk, married Mrs Tabitha Payne (Briggs), widow of Samuel Briggs Esq., and daughter and heiress of Henry Payne, Esq., of Althamstone. Their children are not listed. William died in 1669, and his wife died in 1639. Hayden does not account for another brother, Robert, of Sir Edward.

By

Bernard P. Chamberlain, Secretary of The John Peyton Memorial Association

The compiler and author of this book on parts of the Peyton Family, Mr Avery H. Reed, has kindly given me this opportunity to comment upon the Peyton Family in general.

It happens that the Peyton Family is a very old and honorable one in Mother England, and representatives of it came to Virginia --to Westmoreland and Gloucester Counties --in the mid-1600's. Because it has been a prominent family through the centuries it has had a great many chroniclers; in fact, it is one of the best documented families in Great Britain. However, because there have been so many writers reporting upon its genealogy there have been many discrepancies among the chroniclers, and it has been an easy matter for the later writer to follow the errors of an earlier one.

By tradition and on the support of considerable evidence, the Peyton Family in England is believed to come down through the leading family of Normandy, that of Rollo, first Duke of Normandy, and into England through William de Malet, a kinsman of and mace bearer for William the Conqueror, at the Battle of Hastings in 1066. The first descendant to take the name of Peyton, derived from his patrimonial manor, Peyton Hall, in Suffolk, was Reginald de Peyton, who died about 1136.

The primogeniture line of the Peytons is well established, although as indicated above there are discrepancies, principally among the earlier generations. Also the various lines which have sprung from the main stem are well known and documented; for example, the de Ufford line that gave rise to the first Earls of Suffolk, the Knowlton and Doddington lines which were closely associated and had three early baronetcies, the Bury St. Edmunds line which probably had more connections than any other branch with royal blood, and the Irish branch of many distinguished soldiers and emigrants to far countries.

The Virginia Peytons are the descendants of immigrants to Westmoreland and Gloucester Counties, respectively, and it happens that both groups are associated with Sir Edward Peyton (1578-1656), 2nd Baronet of Isleham, Cambridgeshire, whose grandson, Robert Peyton, settled in Gloucester County, Virginia, and whose kinsman, Henry Peyton (1590-1656), of Lincoln's Inn, Middlesex, sent four sons to Westmoreland County, at least two of whom remained as permanent settlers. In 1633 Sir Edward, who was then the head of the primogeniture line, gave this Henry Peyton as a kinsman who had branched out of his family his approval to bear his Peyton arms "with a difference of the bordure ermine" (confirmed by the Garter King of Arms in 1641).

However, exactly what was the relationship between these two men, who died in the same year, 1656, is so far one of the unsolved questions on the Peyton family. With this question Mr Reed is not concerned in his book, for there is no need for him to give it particular attention. It is one of the problems upon which The John Peyton Memorial Association is working at the present time.

On the other hand, Mr Reed does concern himself with the connection of Henry Peyton (1799- 1891), of "Park Hill," Albemarle County, and of "Glendale," Augusta County, one of the principal persons in his book, with the main Peyton stem, and because he asserts a probable connection with Robert Peyton, the Gloucester County immigrant, I think I should mention my own feeling that a connection of this line with the Peyton immigrants to Westmoreland County seems much more likely. It must be mentioned, however, that because the evidence does not amount to proof both his position and mine are necessarily speculative.

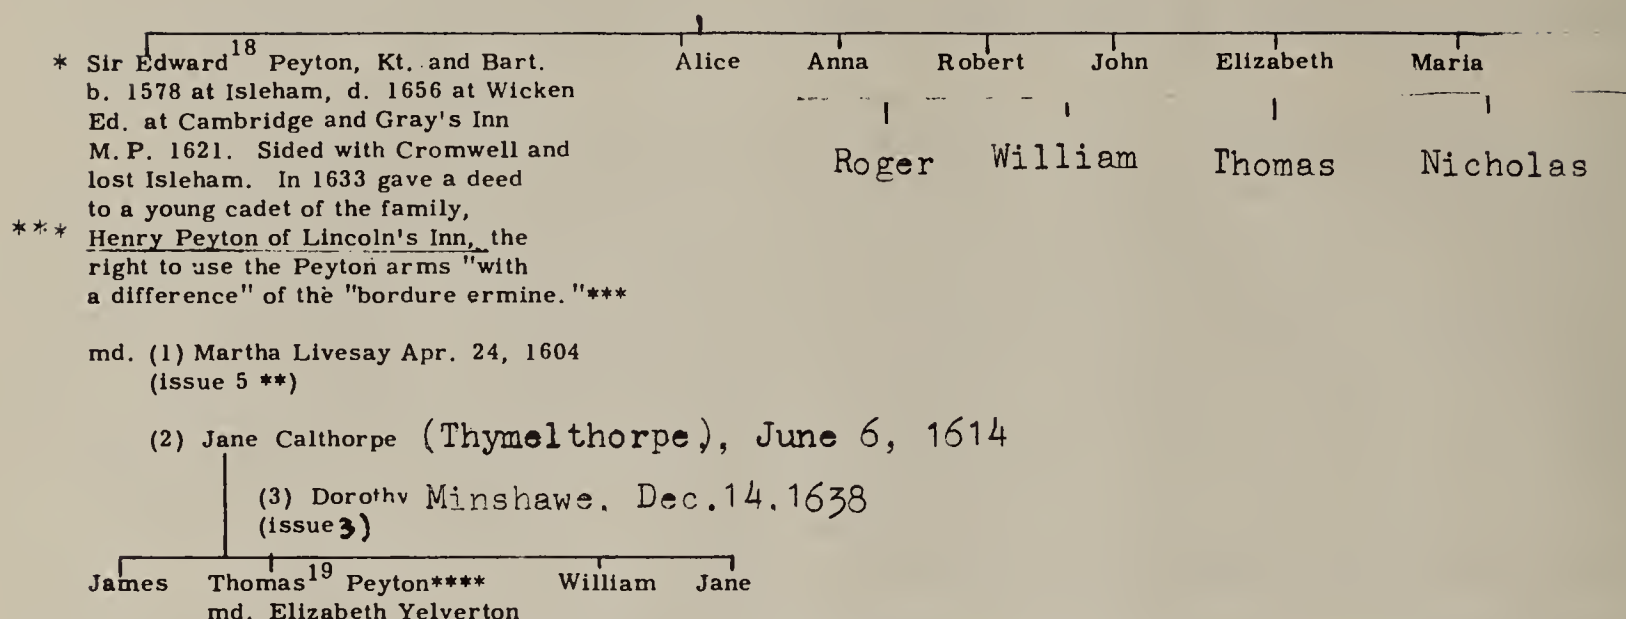

The leading American writer on the Peytons was the late Reverend Horace E. Hayden, whose celebrated book, "Virginia Genealogies," was published in 1891. Mr Hayden after much study of British records came to the conclusion that the most reliable reporter of the Peyton family in England was Mr Robert E. Chester Waters, who wrote extensively upon the Peytons in his 1878 book entitled, "Genealogical Memoirs of the Extinct Family of Chester of Chicheley," and so Hayden follows Waters almost literally in presenting the background material on the Virginia Peytons. Mr Reed very wisely follows Hayden closely in his detailed data on the descendants of Henry Peyton (1590-1656), of Lincoln's Inn, an Examiner of the High Court of Chancery in England, progenitor, as mentioned above, of the immigrants to Westmoreland County, and on the antecedents of Robert Peyton, the immigrant to Gloucester County, Virginia.

Those who would like to see a very handsome pedigree chart of the Peyton Family in England and of one American branch are directed to one some thirty-six feet in length, which is in the custody of the Alderman Library at the University of Virginia. It is a copy in color of a chart made in 1688 by the College of Heralds in England, at the request of Edward Peyton, a younger son of Sir Edward Peyton, 2nd Bart. of Isleham. It contains the armorial shields of the Peytons and of the families into which they married. Unfortunately it contains a few inaccuracies, and the American branch addition is wrongly connected to Robert Peyton, of Gloucester County. This quite beautiful document was a gift to Virginia by Bernard Peyton, of "Isleham," Princeton, New Jersey, a member of our Association.

Peyton English Forebears

* Hayden states Sir John¹⁷ Peyton had 12 children and lists 6 sons: Edward, John, Roger, Thomas, Nicholas and William.

 The children of the first wife, Martha Livesay, included John¹⁹, who inherited the Baronetcy, which became extinct when the latter's son, John²⁰, who was Governor of Ross Castle, Kerry, Ireland, died without issue March 23, 1721.

 The exact relationship between Henry Peyton of Lincoln's Inn and Sir Edward¹⁸ Peyton has not been clearly established. He has been credited as being a nephew, but the known birth dates do not fit together very well. He may have been a cousin from the Knowlton and Doddington group. However, the rigorous rules of Heraldry would not have permitted a grant of arms "with a difference" to one out of the grantor's line. Recent research by the Richmond Herald in London indicates that Henry was married at All Hallows the Less in London on July 29, 1620, to Katherine Clifton, daughter of William Clifton (and Bridget _____, his wife),

* Thomas¹⁹ Peyton had 4 children, among them Robert²⁰ Peyton, who emigrated to Gloucester County, Virginia, c. 1688, and named his place "Isleham." The Gloucester line of Peytons stems from him.

In 1954 we prepared some genealogical notes, based largely upon Hayden's data. We have presented above the "official" pedigree of the Peyton Family in England, which differs from Hayden's record principally in these particulars: (1) Hayden's Nigel³ de Peyton, John⁴ de Peyton, and John⁵ de Peyton are eliminated; (2) The wife of John¹¹ de Peyton, is Grace Langley, not Grace Burgoyne, as listed by Hayden; and (3) Sir Edward¹⁸ Peyton's third wife is Dorothy Ball, not Dorothy Minshawe, as listed by Hayden.

We have no reason to question the record of the American pedigree from Henry¹ Peyton, of Lincoln's Inn, down through John⁴ Peyton, of Stony Hill, as presented by Hayden. Much work has been done in bringing these lines from John⁴ Peyton up to date, but we are not ready yet to present these additional data. This will be a project of another year.

A few copies of our 1954 notes are still available for members of our Association who have never acquired a copy. Photographic copies (not in color and reduced in size) of the original College of Heralds' Chart can be obtained for $5.00 each. Incidentally, the coats of arms appearing on the Heralds' chart, in addition to Peyton, are those of the following interlocking families: Gernon, Tregoz, Colville, Sutton, Langley, Bernard, Lilling, Mallory and Haselden.

THE JOHN PEYTON MEMORIAL ASSOCIATION

The Peytons are an old and honorable family of England. By tradition and some authority their first progenitor in England was William de Mallet, one of the Norman Barons who accompanied William the Conqueror to England 1066. This de Mallet appears on the Roll of Battle Abbey. Le Neve, in "Le Neve's Knights," records that the first person to bear the Peyton name was Reginald, the 2nd. son of Walter de Mallet, who was Lord of Sibton and younger brother of the Sheriff of Yorkshire. Reginald held the Lordship of Peyton Hall in Ramshold and Boxford, Suffolk, under Hugh de Bigod, kinsman of Roger Bigod, Earl of Norfolk, and Reginald became known as Reginald de Peyton. In 1136 following Reginald's death, King Stephen confirmed in his son, John de Peyton, Peyton Hall and all his father's lands in Suffolk.

The Rev. Horace E. Hayden in his monumental book, "Virginia Genealogies," published in 1891 follows R.E. Chester Waters ("The Chesters of Chicheley") in stating that the two de Mallet links mentioned above are not clearly established, and so he starts the Peyton line Reginald de Peyton.

There has been prepared by certain Peyton family connections residing in California, a large, 4-ft. by 36-ft, Peyton family tree scroll, in beautiful colors, and written in Latin; the original of which is possessed by Bernard Peyton, of Princeton, N. J., and replica of which is on file, for public observation, in the Library of the University of Virginia.

And accompanying this preamble the writer calls attention to two CHARTS, page 8 and 16, of the Peyton lineage, outlining its English origin, and indicating the American branches of record in Virginia.

Two branches of this Peyton family have come to Virginia. Major Robert Peyton (1640-1694) of "Rougham," County Norfolk, England, grandson of Sir Edward Peyton of "Iselham" (or "Isleham"), Cambridgeshire, came to Gloucester County, Va., before 1679 and named his place in the New World "Iselham," after the family estate in England. Henry Peyton (1590-1656) of "Lincoln's Inn," Amiger, an examiner of the High Court of Chancery, near kinsman of Sir Edward Peyton of "Iselham," sent four of his 8 sons, Valentine, Lawrence, Henry, and John, to Westmoreland Co., Virginia, prior to 1656. Lawrence returned to England. Col. Valentine Peyton had a son, Gerard, died, no issue, a daughter, Judith, lived, had issue. Henry Peyton, of "Aquia," "Gentleman," in Westmoreland County, was the progenitor of the Peytons of this Memorial Association; restricted, however, in the write-up to the descendants of Henry's son Henry, and that Henry's son (grandson), John Peyton, of "Stony Hill," Stafford Co., Va. Immigrant John Peyton, brother of immigrants Valentine and Lawrence, also returned to England; according to Hayden, as he states, page 482, "After the accession of Charles II, in 1669, (John and Lawrence) do not appear in Va. Records."

In extenuation of the Peyton pedigree chart herewith, and mentioned above, the present writer offers the following, explanation, and added amplification.

By a deed dated November 20, 1633, Sir Edward Peyton, of "Iselham," certified that his kinsman, Henry Peyton, of "Lincoln's Inn," one of the examiners of the High Court of Chancery, who had branched out from his family, was allowed his arms with a difference of the bordure, described as "Sable, a cross engrailed or, in the first quarter a mullet argent, all within a bordure ermine," and these arms were confirmed to him, July 27, 1841, 17th of King Charles I, by Sir John Borough, Garter

Hence the arms, etc., of the two branches of the family in Virginia are :

of the Gloucester branch :

Arms : "Sa, a cross engrailed or;"

Crest : "On a wreath, a griffin sejant or;"

of the Westmoreland branch :

Arms : "Sa, a cross engrailed or, in the second quarter a mullet arg, all within a bordure erm;"

Crest : "A griffin sejant or;"

Motto : "Patior, Potior."

The line of descent given by Hayden, from Reginald de Peyton to John Peyton of "Stony Hill," is set forth below.

REGINALD DE PEYTON : Held Lordship of Peyton Hall in Ramshold and Boxford, Suffolk, under Hugh de Bigod, kinsman of Roger Bigod, Earl of Norfolk, and assumed name of PEYTON; d. 1136

JOHN DE PEYTON : To whom King Stephen, 1136, confirmed Peyton Hall in Suffolk

SIR JOHN DE PEYTON : Kt., Lord of Peyton Hall, etc.; married Agnes _____

SIR JOHN DE PEYTON : Kt., Crusader. b. 1270, d. 1287; married Matilda Bueriis, sister and heiress to Symon de Notele

SIR JOHN DE PEYTON : Kt., M.P., 1299-1300; d. 1318 (?); married Clemence _____

SIR ROBERT DE PEYTON : Kt., Chevalier, d. 1351; married twice : (1) Christina, widow of Wm. de Appleton; (2) Joan de Marney, noble family of Essex

SIR JOHN DE PEYTON : Kt., (by second marriage supre) of Peyton Hall, and jure ux, of East Thorpe and Wicken; d. 1394; married Margaret Gernon, daughter and heiress of Sir John Gernon, of Lees, in Essex

JOHN DE PEYTON, Esq., of Wicken. He was heir of Peyton Hall but died during the life of his father, and so he received none of the large Gernon estates. However, he married Joan Sutton, daughter and heiress of Sir Hamon Sutton, Kt., of Wixon (or Wickashoe), in Norfolk, and he held estates jure ux. He died in 1404.

JOHN DE PEYTON, Esq., of Peyton Hall; b. 1390, d. 10/6/1416. He married Grace Borquene Langley. His oldest son John died s.p. in his mother's lifetime, and the second son, Thomas, became heir.

SIR THOMAS PEYTON : Kt., b. 2/14/1415-17, at Dry Drayton, Cambridge; d. 7/30/1484. He was High Sheriff of Cambridgeshire; he married twice : (1) Margaret Bernard, daughter and heiress of Sir John Bernard, Kt., of Iselham, Cambridgeshire, and also of Welyon, Norhants. Thus, jure ux, "Iselham" came into the Peyton family. Portraits of Sir Thomas and his first wife hang in Melford church, in Suffolk. By that marriage he had Thomas, Margaret, and Grace. (2) Margaret Francis,

(SIR THOMAS PEYTON : Kt.) daughter and heiress of Sir Hugh Francis, Kt., of Gifford Hall, Wickhambrook, Suffolk, and widow of Thomas Carney, Esq. By that marriage he had Christopher, Rose, and Francis. Christopher became High Sheriff of Cambridgeshire. (The Peyton line coming down to Sir Edward Peyton of Iselham, is through Thomas, son by the first marriage). Another distinguished line comes down through Francis, son by the second marriage. Some Peyton genealogists attempt to connect Henry Peyton of Lincoln's Inn with the latter line, that is, Christopher, Rose, and Francis; but the weight of evidence is against this latter source of that Henry.

THOMAS PEYTON : Died in his father's lifetime and did not succeed him at Iselham. He married Jane Calthorne, daughter and heiress of James Calthorne, of Burnham, St. Martin, Norfolk; and he held estates jure ux. His eldest son, Thomas, succeeded his grandfather. His second son, Robert, later succeeded Thomas to all his grandfather's estates, and his mother's estates also. Another son, Edward, who died s.p., was Gentleman Usher of Chamber to Henry VIII, and was in waiting to his King at the field of Cloth of Gold in June, 1520.

SIR ROBERT PEYTON : Kt., After his brother Thomas' death in 1492, he was seized of Wicken, Caldecote, Iselham, in Cambridge; and Peyton Hall, Calthorne Hall, Leyman Hall, Water Hall, in Suffolk; and other estates. He was made a Knight banneret on the field after the battle of Stoke Heath, June 15, 1407. He was High Sheriff of Cambridgeshire, 1498. He died March 18, 1517-18, and was buried at Iselham. He married Elizabeth Clere, daughter of Sir Robert Clere, Kt., of Ormesby, Norfolk. His eldest son, William, died young, and his second son, Robert, became his heir. Through his third son, Sir John, are descended the Peytons of Knowlton and Doddington. (Henry Peyton of Lincoln's Inn, may have stemmed from the latter line).

SIR ROBERT PEYTON : Kt., of Iselham, b.1498, d.Aug.1,1550. He was High Sheriff of Cambridgeshire; also Groom of Privy Chamber to Henry VIII, and was with the King in 1539 at Greenwich when he went to meet Anne of Cleves. He married Frances Hasildon, daughter and heiress of Francis Hasildon, Esq., of Little Chesterford, Essex, etc., who was of royal descent.

ROBERT PEYTON, Esq., of Iselham. b.1523; "Solemnly buried" (that is marshalled by Herald) at Iselham, Nov. 12, 1590. He was High Sheriff of Cambridge and Hunringdon, and was a Knight of the Shire for Cambridge in the last Parliament of William and Mary, but was never Knighted. He married Elizabeth Rich, seventh daughter of Richard, Lord Richard, Lord Chancellor of England. His eldest son and heir, Robert, died 1577 during his lifetime, and his second son, John, became his heir.

SIR JOHN PEYTON : Kt., and Baronet, of Iselham. He was High Sheriff of Cambridge, 1592; Knight of the Shire, 1593; Knighted by Queen Elizabeth, Nov.1,1596; M.P.,1604; created Baron^{et}, May 22,1611; died, Dec.,1616; buried at Iselham, Dec.19,1616 (the year in which Shakespeare died). He married Alice Osborne, eldest daughter of Sir Edward Osborne, Kt., Lord Mayor of London

(SIR JOHN PEYTON : Kt.)

(1583) and ancestor of the Duke of Leeds. They had 11 children, 7 boys and 4 girls, named : Sir Edward; John; Robert; Roger; William; Thomas; Nicholas; Alice; Anna; Elizabeth; and Maria. The name of a 12th child is not available, if any. His eldest son, Sir Edward, was his heir. (Inasmuch as Henry Peyton of Lincoln's Inn, was supposed to have been a nephew of Sir Edward Peyton, it is well to note the available facts given by Hayden respecting Sir John's other sons and Sir Edward's brothers. According to Heyden, 4 sons, John, Roger, Thomas and Nicholas, all died without issue. Another son, William Peyton, of Worthington, Suffolk, married Tabitha Payne, daughter and heiress of Henry Payne, Esq., of Althamstone, and widow of Samuel Briggs, Esq. William died before 1669, and his wife had been buried in 1639. Their children are not named here. Assuming that Edward, who was born 1578, was the eldest son, then William could not have been born prior to 1579, and so he could not have but 11 years of age when Henry Peyton of Lincoln's Inn was born in 1590. Hayden, of course, could be wrong in dates. Another aspect might be consideration of possible unrecorded descendants of the son Robert Peyton, about which nothing has been mentioned. Also, name of only 11 children are available, as already recited; and could be that that missing one is another boy, account of whom is not available. All to the end of trying to make out that Henry Peyton, of Lincoln's Inn, could be a nephew in fact of Sir Edward Peyton).

SIR EDWARD PEYTON : Kt., and Bart., b. 1576 at Iselham, d. 1656-57 at Wicken. He was educated at Cambridge and was known as a great scholar. In 1611 he matriculated at Gray's Inn. He was a Knight of the Shire under James I and Charles II; he was Knighted at Whitehall Feb. 4, 1610-11, and succeeded to his father's Baronetsy when he died in Dec., 1616. He was M.P. for Cambridge in 1621. He became financially embarrassed and sold Iselham prior to 1642. He had been given by his father the manor of Great Bradley, in Suffolk, and he held other estates jure ux. In 1633 he gave a deed to a cadet of the family, Henry Peyton of Lincoln's Inn, according him the use of the Peyton arms, with a difference of the bordure ermine. He married 3 times. (1) Martha Livesay, April 24, 1604, dau. of Robert Livesay, Esq., of Tooting, Surrey; (2) Mrs. Jane Calthorpe, June 6, 1614, daughter of Sir James Calthorpe, of Calthorpe, County Norfolk, and widow of Sir Henry Thymelthorpe, Kt., of Norfolk; and (3) Dorothy Ball. By his first marriage he had 5 children : John; Rev. Edward, M.A.; Thomas; Robert; and Amy. By his second marriage he had 4 children : James; Thomas; William; and Jane. And by his third marriage he had 3 children : Edward; Joseph; and Samuel. His eldest son, John, became his heir, Sir John Peyton, Bart., and the Baronetsy in this direct line ended with his son, Sir John Peyton, Governor of Ross Castle, Kerry, Ireland, who died without issue March 23, 1721. Sir Edward Peyton's son, Thomas Peyton, by his second marriage (Mrs. Jane Calthorpe + Thymelthorpe), of Rougham, Norfolk, Lord of the Manor of Wicken, was born at Iselham in 1616, died Oct. 12, 1683. He married twice. (1) Elizabeth Yelverton, daughter and heiress of Sir William Yelverton, Bart., of Rougham Co., Norfolk; and (2) "the widow Hacon." By his first marriage, there was Major Robert Peyton, who emigrated to Gloucester Co., Va.

HENRY PEYTON : of "Lincoln's Inn," Middlesex County, Armiger, was born 1590; he died in London in March or April, 1656. His WILL dated December 10, 1655, was probated May 6, 1656. He was first Clerk of the High Court of Chancery in London and later, in 1631-32, he was appointed one of the two Examiners of the High Court of Chancery. He lived in Chancery Lane. He was married at All Hallows the Less in London on July 29, 1620, to Katherine Clifton, daughter of William Clifton and Bridget _____, his wife. According to Hayden they had 13 children, herewith listed in the supposed order of their respective birth : Robert; Katherine; Henry (1) infant; Valentine; Lawrence; Bridgett; Henry (2) adult; Margaret; John; Sandys; Charles; Mary; and William. Four of the sons, Valentine, Lawrence, Henry, and John, came to Virginia as young men and held land in Westmoreland County. Possibly a fifth, Charles, was for a time in Stafford County. After the Restoration, Charles returned to England. Account of the three sons who stayed in Virginia, will follow directly. In his Will, Henry Peyton of "Lincoln's Inn," refers to his brother, "Master William," and to two children of his brother Edmund; he makes provision for those of his children for whom he had not otherwise, and even for his wife's sister. He gives no further identity of his family connections. Attention has already been called to his recognition by his kinsman, Sir Edward Peyton, Bart., and of his grant of the right to use the Peyton arms, "with a difference," and of the confirmation of this right by "Sir John Borough, Garter." Hayden first expresses the speculation that this Henry Peyton was likely a descendant of Rev. Thomas Peyton, son of Thomas Peyton, son of Christopher Peyton, son of Francis Peyton, who was the son of Sir Thomas Peyton and his second wife, Margaret Francis (Carney). Rev. Thomas Peyton went to County Mayo, Ireland, prior to 1623 and became the progenitor of the Peytons of Driney House and Leheen, County Létrim, Ireland. Later Hayden indicates that Henry may have been a nephew of Sir Edward Peyton; but as shown above he was likely born too early to have been Sir Edward's nephew. Dates, however, fit in with being a descendant of Sir John Peyton, son of Sir Robert Peyton and Elizabeth Clere, who became the progenitor of the Peytons of Knowlton and Doddington. That Sir John married Dorothy Tyndall, daughter of Sir Robert Tyndall; this became a large and prominent branch of the Peyton family. The Virginia family genealogical charts attempt to identify Henry Peyton, of "Lincoln's Inn," as Henry Peyton, son of Christopher Peyton, son of Francis Peyton, who was the son of Sir Thomas Peyton and his second wife, Margaret Francis (Carney). The known records do not show that this Henry Peyton had either brothers or sons named Henry, Edmund, or William. Nor can he be identified with Sir Henry Peyton, a member of the Virginia Company of London in 1610, son of Thomas Pwyton, who was a brother of above, because aside from a disparity of dates Sir Henry Peyton died without issue. Hence the nearest known connection of Henry Peyton, of "Lincoln's Inn," is as a near kinsman of the direct line of Sir Edward Peyton.

- 4 (I) COL. VALENTINE PEYTON : of "Nominy," of Westmoreland; b.1629, d.1665. Married Frances Gerrard, daughter of Dr Thomas Gerrard, and widow of Colonel Thomas Speke, of Westmoreland; issue, 2 children, Gerrard, died no issue; Judith, married and issue 2 children.
- 7 (I) HENRY PEYTON : of "Aquia," Westmoreland County, "Gentleman," as he called himself, was born in London, England, in 1630-31, Baptised at St. Dunstan in the West, London, Feb.25, 1631; came to Virginia about 1650, and died in Westmoreland County, May, 1659 ? His WILL, dated May 17, 1658, was not probated until October 20, 1659. About 1655 he married Ellen Partington, (probably daughter of Richard Partington, of London) He died before his wife, and she made her brother-in-law, Colonel Valentine Peyton, her attorney in fact, to help her in her property matters. With the help of his brother, Valentine Peyton, Henry Peyton acquired an estate of about 1900 acres, of which 1500 lay along the Acquia River in what is now Stafford County. He was a member of the Merchant Taylor's Co., of London. His children were 3 boys, Henry, Valentine, and Phillip. The descendants of Valentine and Phillip Peyton are not securely established, because of the destruction during the Civil War of the Stafford County records
- 1 (II) HENRY PEYTON : of "Aquia Creek," Stafford County, Virginia, was born in Westmoreland County, 1656. Around 1685 he married Anne Thornton (?). It is not known when he died. The destruction of the Stafford County records during the Civil War, leaves little more information about Henry and Anne, than that appearing on the tombstone of their son, John Peyton, of "Stiny Hill." Henry Peyton and his wife had 2 children, Valentine and John. There are a great many descendants of Valentine Peyton, but they will not be listed here, because this genealogy is restricted to the line of his brother, John Peyton, of "Stony Hill."
- 2 (III) JOHN PEYTON : of "Stony Hill," Stafford County, Virginia, was born 1691, and died May 18, 1760. His WILL, dated May 29, 1760, was probated in Stafford County, June 11, 1760. He owned 2 estates along the Potomac River and Acquia Creek. "Stony Hill," where he lived, (being) a tract of 500 acres, and "Tusculum," an estate of 800 acres lying about 5 miles farther North. He also owned at least one tract in Prince William County, several tracts in Fauquier County, and a lot in the city of Alexandria. He had been, in young manhood, a member of Governor Spottswood's band of explorers who became known as the Knights of the Golden Horseshoe. In 1736, and again in 1757-58 he represented Stafford County in the Virginia House of Burgesses. He was also a Justice of that County from 1745 probably until his death. He was Vestryman and Clerk of Quantico Parish in 1737, and of Overwharton Parish in 1757. A plaque in Aquia church listing the Vertrymen who had the church rebuilt in 1751 contains his name. John Peyton had two wives and 8 children. About 1730 he married Anne Waye, and these were the children of that marriage : Valentine, M.D., b.1730 ? Anne Waye, b.1731-32 ? Yelverton, b.1735 ? Elizabeth, b.1741; William, b.1742; and Henry, b.1744 ? In 1752 he married Elizabeth Rowzee, and they had : John Rowzee, b.1754, and Dr Valentine, b.1756.

AQUIA CHURCH

(Protestant Episcopal)

Located about 10 miles north of Fredericksburg, Va., near the town of Stafford, on Highway No. 1, North. Over the door is this inscription: "Built A.D. 1751, Destroyed by fire A.D. 1754, and Rebuilt A.D. 1757, by Mourning Richards, Undertaker, and William Copein, Mason." (Here the old usage of "undertaker" to mean a contractor is preserved) The walls are probably those of the building of 1751, whose roof and interior were reconstructed in 1757, following the ravages of the fire. Aquia is built in the form of a Greek cross, with two tiers of windows set in very thick walls. There are three double-door entrances, one on each arm of the cross, with the altar in the East end. Against the Reredos of the white woodwork are four arched panels in black, inscribed in English script with the Ten Commandments, the Apostles' Creed, and the Lord's Prayer. At the Southeastern re-entrant angle stands the original "Three-decker" pulpit, with its great sounding board. The pews are square, high-backed, box-pen, with doors. The altar rail is walnut wood. Over the West entrance is the gallery, supported by large pillars and reached by winding stairs; it was the slave gallery of former days. There is a graveyard at Aquia. John Peyton and his 2 wives, Anne Waye (Peyton), and Elizabeth Rowzee (Peyton), are buried there. This John was the son of certain Henry Peyton and Anne (Thornton)? (Peyton); son of another Henry Peyton, one of three brothers of (II) generation; themselves sons of still another 7 (I) Henry Peyton of Acquia, in Westmoreland Co., Va.; and himself the 7th child of issue of 13 children, born to Henry Peyton of "Lincoln's Inn," Armiger, England, and wife, Elizabeth Clifton (Peyton). Also buried in the same Peyton plot is certain Eliza () beloved wife of Rowzee Peyton.
